History Remote Learning
Romans

Reminder

This week is our history week and we are going to be researching the Romans. There is a lot of information about the Romans because they largely influenced the way we live today.

You are going to create a fact file/presentation/information booklet about the Romans. Each day I am going to be providing you with a question that I would like you to research.

You can present your findings any way you would like (e.g. Microsoft Powerpoint, handwritten booklet). I have also given you some tools on Purple Mash, should you wish to use them.

Below are some websites with video links and information to support your research. I have also given you some information via Purple Mash.

Today's question:

How do we know about the Romans?

Wednesday's question: What did the Romans leave us that matter in our lives today?

Tuesday's questions: How did the Romans' lives differ from our own?

Monday's question: Who were the Romans?
